Japs Try Vainly To Stem Assault of Long-Range U. S. Mustangs From Iwo Jima

YANK U-BOATS PARTICIPATE IN BLOCKADE

Submarines and Mine-Laying Superfortresses Are Tightening Squeeze On Homeland

NEW TARGETS SOUGHT

San Francisco, July 9.—(P)—Tokyo radio reported a "considerable number" of American submarines and mine-laying Superfortresses attempted to blockade Japanese harbors while raiding planes swept widely over the home islands today in their daily strikes.

The Domei News Agency claimed that "at least seven" submarines have been sunk in Japanese waters since the beginning of June and Japanese planes were "continuing their assaults on enemy submarines." This claim and all reports of air action were without American confirmation.

Air raiders from Iwo Jima hunted new targets, Tokyo said, in their daily attacks on Honshu and Kyushu islands.

By AL DOPKING

Guam, July 9.—(P)—Flying new "Jack" fighter planes, Japan's recently-issued long-range fighters, recently attempted to blockade the island again Sunday, trying vainly to stem the assault of long-range American Mustangs from Iwo Jima, which ravaged Tokyo airfields for the fourth time in five days.

Two Iwo-based Mustangs, Okinawa-based Corsairs and navy scout planes destroyed or damaged 50 Japanese planes—many on the ground—sank eight small coastal ships and damaged six others. Seven Mustangs were the only American planes reported missing from the day's far-ranging forays which struck nearly every section of Japan's shrinking empire.

Fifth Air Force Mustangs from Okinawa swept Kyushu for the fourth straight day after Gen. George C. Kenney told them: "You are on Japan's doorstep and no holds are barred now, for everybody's an enemy up there."

"Jack" fighter planes encountered by Mustang pilots from Iwo Jima's Seventh Fighter Command have been described as navy interceptors capable of more than 400 miles per hour.

While his Fifth Air Force fighters were hammering Kyushu, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported from Manila, Far East air force fighters bombed Japanese air bases, enemy communications and supply centers in Formosa and along the China invasion coast.

M'Arthur Praises Filipino Loyalty

By JAMES HUTCHESON

Manila, July 9.—(P)—In a widely applauded address to a joint session of the Philippine congress, Gen. Douglas MacArthur asserted that the Filipino people were the only ones in the world who had not been deceived by the Japanese.

MacArthur observed that the national defense obstacle to Philippine independence had been removed because of "altered world conditions resulting from the war."

The general's 20-minute address was interrupted nearly a dozen times by applause from the 14 senators, 73 representatives and several hundred spectators who jammed every available corner in the plain school auditorium which substitutes for the destroyed legislative buildings.

BRAZILIAN CRUISER AND CREW IS LOST

Rio De Janeiro, July 9.—(P)—The 3,150-ton Brazilian cruiser Bahia has been lost in a mid-Atlantic explosion probably with heavy casualties among its complement of 883 men, the navy announced today.

United States units searched for survivors. A number of men were reported picked up. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

Punxsutawney, July 9.—(P)—Everybody who bought a War Bond had a chance to win another one and the men on the platform were taking numbers out of a bowl to determine the lucky winners.

The first prize was won by Miss Katherine Noonan. The second prize was won by Miss Katherine Noonan. The numbers-drawers nearly swooned when the third prize winner turned out to be Miss Katherine Noonan.

It was a part of a well-attended Bond-Wagon rally sponsored here by radio station KDKA Saturday.

Aussies Are Continuing To Drive Ahead

By HAMILTON W. FARON

Manila, July 9.—(P)—Closely supported by American warships and aircraft, Australian jungle veterans advanced against sporadic Japanese resistance today on all fronts of the southeast Borneo invasion coast around Balikpapan.

The naval units ranged the length of the coast, pounding Japanese gun positions while Mustangs, Spitfires, Kittyhawks and Liberators of the Australian and American air forces kept up a steady attack on Japanese positions, smashing guns, warehouses, barracks and small coastwise craft.

One column of the Aussie seventh division infantry, driving inland from captured Balikpapan, completed isolation of the Pandanari refinery area, in the north-west of the town where the Japanese death-stand rear guard has put up its stiffest fight.

Across Balikpapan bay, where Japanese fieldpieces harassed the Australians in the early days of the invasion, another column of the Seventh Division advanced inland from one to two miles without opposition.

Northeast of the rich oil port, forces which overran Springang and Manggar airfields, pushed ahead toward the great oil producing region of Samarinda, which extends 55 miles up the coast from Balikpapan in an area of salt marshes and swamps.

Japanese blocking the way to the oil fields turned coastal guns and mortars on the slowly advancing Australians and battled desperately to stave off as long as possible Allied occupation of the vital fuel centers.

THREE-YEAR-OLD IS LOST FOR 20 HOURS

Albuquerque, July 9.—(P)—Scratched and mosquito-bitten, but otherwise unharmed by his 20-hour search for the "babe in the woods," Jackie Shaffer, 3, was back home today. The pet mongrel dog that guarded him during his wanderings shared in the welcome.

Police, Boy Scouts and neighbors joined the youngster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shaffer, in a search that ended yesterday when three boys found Jackie in a woods a half-mile from his home and separated from it by a stream which he waded.

Scotty the dog, was standing vigil and challenged the rescuers until his master assured him they were friends.

FALTA PLANE CRASH

Morgantown, W. Va., July 9.—(P)—Capt. John Kovach, 29, of Morgantown, Veteran Air Transport Command pilot who completed 35 round trips over the Atlantic, was injured fatally last night when a training plane crashed on a small privately-owned airport near Bructon Mills.

Washington, July 9.—(P)—On the theory it will bring no comfort to the Japanese, the war department has issued a time-table for the return of 31 divisions from Europe between August and January.

With 11 others either back or in the process of returning, the movement will involve more than 500,000 men. Plans still subject to change call for eight divisions to remain in Europe as occupation forces and 18 still to be there at year's end, presumably to await shipping facilities.

The schedule:
August: 85th, 28th and 30th Infantry Divisions and the 20th armored.
September: 14th, 5th, 6th, and 7th Armored; 17th Airborne; 88th,

GATEWAY TO INDO-CHINA RECAPTURED

Chinese Forces Occupy South Guard Pass on Border as Enemy Retreats in Confusion

PROVINCE IS CLEARED

By SPENCER MOOST

Chungking, July 9.—(P)—The Chinese high command announced today that Chinese forces had captured South Guard Pass (Chen-nak-wi) on the border between China and French Indo-China and said the Japanese were retreating in confusion toward Dong Dang, south of the frontier.

With the capture of the pass, gateway to Indo-China, the whole of southwestern Kwangsi province has been cleared of the enemy, the high command said.

Chinese forces striking from recently recaptured Liuchow, along the Hunan-Kwangsi railroad toward its northern terminal at Hengyang, recaptured Lojung, 20 miles northeast of Liuchow, on Saturday. Enemy forces retreated toward the Luohai 28 miles north-east of Liuchow on the highway to Kweilin, with the Chinese in hot pursuit, the high command said.

Belated announcement was made of the recapture July of Tanchuk, a former U. S. 14th Air Force Base city which was abandoned September 21. Tanchuk is situated on the west (SI) river, a little more than 100 miles southeast of Liuchow. It was the fourth abandoned American air base to revert to Chinese control. Liuchow, Yungning (Nanning) and Suichuan were also recaptured previously.

The Chinese also announced the recapture on July 2 of Tengyung, some 20 miles east of Tanchuk on the West river and about 40 miles west of the important inland and former treaty port of Wuchow. Both Tanchuk and Tengyung were recaptured by Chinese regulars, aided by local militia.

Salina, Utah, July 9.—(P)—Machinegun bullets fired by an American soldier killed eight Germans and injured 20 others asleep in a prisoner of war camp.

Why the soldier turned loose the barrage was a question still publicly unanswered today.

The shooting occurred early yesterday, a half hour after Pfc. Clarence Bertucci of New Orleans, La., had gone on duty as a guard at the camp housing prisoners working in central Utah farm fields.

Col. Arthur Ericsson, commander of the prisoner of war camp at Ogden, of which the camp here is a branch, said Bertucci, 23, suddenly fired from his post in a guard tower into a tent area in which the prisoners were housed.

Three bursts of fire, including in all 250 shots and lasting no more than 15 seconds, ripped into the tents.

His ammunition expended, Bertucci yelled for more, Ericsson said, but was placed, instead, under arrest on order of the branch camp commander, Lt. Albert I. Cornell.

Corporations Push Warren County Bond Drive Over the Top to Reach Six Million Mark

Under the experienced leadership of Chairman John L. Blair, the Industrial Corporation Division of the Warren County Finance Committee has turned in an almost-miraculous performance in the 7th War Loan just completed, with corporate war bond purchases reaching over four times the corporation quota assigned by the Treasury.

Latest figures indicate total corporation purchases in excess of $4,000,000,000 credited against the county's one million dollar corporation quota. Because of the quietness and smoothness with which this tremendous sum was raised for the war, and further in view of the especially short period of the corporation drive—confined this time to the final two weeks of the 7th War Loan ending June 30th—few people here realize what a vast contribution this committee and the firm it serves, has made to the war effort in general, and to Warren County's War Loan standing in particular.

Mr. Blair declined to comment as to how the recent huge success was accomplished, other members of the local War Finance Committee ascribed the terrific result to the smooth functioning of the time-proven methods of conveying the importance of the 7th War Loan to the proper individuals within each corporate institution, stressing to them the special advantages of each of the several types of securities available, and then assisting the corporations with the specific information often required in cases of large-sum investments.

The Industrial Corporations Division is composed of John L. Blair, Chairman, and other members of the committee.

Brig. Gen. Emmett (Rosy) O'Donnell, commander of the 73rd Bombardment Wing, flew in the "Dottie" on her first mission, leading the first strike of the 21st Bombardment Command against Tokyo last Nov. 24.

Since then Lt. Andrew G. Mayse of Tulsa, Okla., has been "Dottie's" skipper, but the regular crew stayed behind to complete their combat tours when the plane started home, loaded with men who had completed 30 missions or more against the Japanese.

Only as they walked to the gallows, Father Buchholz said, were the condemned men allowed to hear a few last comforting words from him and his protestant colleague, Chaplain Poelscher.

As Father Buchholz told the story of some 90 Germans executed at Ploetzensee alone, his face revealed what he had gone through watching field marshalls, generals, diplomats and high-ranking political figures hanged, eight in a row, because they tried to rid Germany of Hitler.

Among those that Father Buchholz or Pastor Poelscher accompanied to the gallows were Gen. Von Felligel, Lt. Gen. Paul Von Hase, Maj. Gen. Erich Hoepfner, Gen. Otto Von Stuepelagel, Count Helmut Von Moltke, Count Peter Yorck Von Wartenburg, Ambassador Ulrich Von Hassell, Mayor Karl Goerdeler, o Leipzig, Count General Otto Keipt and Prussian Minister Otto Popitz.

Father Buchholz said most of those condemned to death showed an unbroken spirit. He praised the courage particularly of Kiept, who was counsellor of the German embassy in Washington under Hans Luther.

"He had been horribly mutilated and brutally treated, yet he walked to the gallows proudly and defiantly after a brief last word said to him by Poelscher," Father Buchholz stated.

BERLIN FOOD ISSUE STILL DEADLOCKED

Inter-Allied Embasse Over Government of Capital Unbroken as Diplomats Arrive

PREPARE FOR TRUMAN

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Berlin, July 9.—(P)—The inter-Allied deadlock over the government of Berlin continued unbroken today as high diplomats began arriving for the impending Big Three meeting.

Averell Harriman, U. S. ambassador to Moscow, is to land at the Tempelhof airfield this afternoon and take quarters near the "Little White House" prepared for President Truman in the heavily guarded Potsdam area.

A procession of American limousines started regular service from the airfield to Potsdam, carrying distinguished visitors.

American army signal experts virtually completed strung a thick network of cables and wires.

President Sails For Meeting of Big Three

Washington, July 9.—(P)—President Truman is enroute today to Europe for the Big Three meeting with Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

The president left Newport News by ship Saturday. Accompanying him was a staff of advisers including Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

The Big Three meeting will be held in the Potsdam area near Berlin.

By which Mr. Truman will be in touch with Washington while he confers with Generalissimo Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

Guards from Elite Red Army regiments were increased throughout the Potsdam area. A heavy sprinkling of American and British sentries were in the area.

The Berlin governmental impasse over the issue of supplying food and fuel for the districts occupied by the Americans and British still was unsettled and the possibility increased that the Big Three might have to resolve it.

Col. Frank Howley, father of the military government of the United States occupation zone, declared last night he expected the major powers to decide within a few days on an overall plan of government for Berlin, but he disclaimed personal knowledge of the immediate issues of food and fuel.

Earlier American and British sources asserted that unless they have control over the food and fuel situation in their respective zones there would be no real British and American military governments in the German capital.

The issue, which may be given the Big Three to decide, was viewed by American and British officials.

Eclipse is Viewed By Astronomers

Wolsley, Sask., July 9.—(P)—For a brief 34 seconds the moon blotted out the sun here today, and in so doing fulfilled the hopes of astronomers who had feared previously that an overcast sky might prevent them from recording the eclipse.

Weeks of careful preparation and three days of almost continual work by members of the Franklin Institute—Philadelphia Bulletin—University of Pennsylvania expedition had their reward when the sun, preceded by an eerie, coppery cast over the surrounding landscape, disappeared from view for the 34 seconds which the scientists had estimated as the period of totality.

Long before totality was reached at 6:17 a. m. (8:17 a. m. EWT) residents of Wolsley crowded into the grounds of the school in which the expedition had established its headquarters.

Pittsburgh, July 9.—(P)—Pittsburgh for the first time in 13 years today had its first visible eclipse of the sun.

Friday the 13th Red Letter Day for Martin

Philadelphia, July 9.—(P)—Friday the 13th will be a real red letter day for Martin Gold. He'll celebrate his 13th birthday anniversary in a hospital—but it will be the happiest birthday of his life.

He was taken to the hospital last Oct. 15 suffering from infantile paralysis. Doctors said his was a hopeless case.

But now he's scooting around the children's ward, distributing invitations to his birthday party. Doctors say he has recovered almost completely thanks to the Sister Kenny method of treatment.

Strike Idle Falls Below 40,000 Mark

By the Associated Press

The national total of strike idle fell below the 40,000 mark today for the first time in nearly a month.

Contribution to the brightened labor picture were the return to work of strikers in Detroit and Cleveland and dissolution of a threat of new troubles in the Akron rubber industry.

A strike of 524 polishes, CIO United Automobile Workers, ended at the Graham-Paige Motors Corporation plant in Detroit and production of aircraft connecting rods was resumed.

The strike, which also idled 300 employees in the machining department, began Thursday night in a dispute over whether the management should upgrade two men to replace instructors on leave.

In Cleveland, CIO United Steel Workers returned to their jobs at Republic Steel Corporation's continuous strip mill after a week-long walkout that closed the plant.

The strike was in protest against a decrease in "take home" pay caused by reduction of tonnage handled.

In Akron, a threatened tieup of another big rubber plant was averted as normal operations were resumed at the B. F. Goodrich Company after a week's shutdown for machinery overhaul.

Pickets stopped employees from entering Goodrich mill four last night but workers were on their jobs this morning after a union leader termed the action unauthorized.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company's five Akron plants, employing 16,700, have been under navy operation since their seizure Thursday. The Firststone Tire & Rubber Company, with 15,500, has been strikebound since July 1.

Workers are members of the CIO United Rubber Workers.

Kamikazes Attack British Carriers

Guam, July 9.—The indestructible, the Victorious and another unidentified British aircraft carrier were struck by Japanese suicide planes in the Ryukyus during the Okinawa campaign but all three escaped with minor damage and remained in operation, U. S. Pacific fleet headquarters disclosed Sunday.

Two suicide crashes were made upon the indestructible in one day; the Victorious was hit once, and the unidentified carrier was hit twice on consecutive days. Two other kamikazes actually touched the flight decks and another touched a carrier's superstructure, but all crashed harmlessly into the sea.

The incidents occurred during the British strikes against the Sakishima group of the Ryukyus in a two-day period beginning March 26, during which 140 Japanese aircraft were destroyed.

Linz, Austria, July 7.—(Delayed by Censorship)—(P)—German officials now in custody say Joseph Morton, Associated Press War correspondent was captured after he flew into Slovakia during a Czechoslovakia uprising, was executed in the Mauthausen concentration camp Jan. 24 on orders from Heinrich Himmler's staff in Berlin.

Morton, 34, an imaginative and energetic correspondent who came out of Romania with the first interview of Kink Mihai after Romania made peace last year, was captured near Plomka in Slovakia the day after last Christmas.

He was taken to Bratislava and arrived in Mauthausen, 15 miles east of this city, early in January.

STETTINIUS MAKES PLEA FOR CHARTER

Silver-Haired Former Secretary of State Is First Witness Before Committee

CAUCUS ROOM JAMMED

Washington, July 9.—(P)—Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., told the senate foreign relations committee today that the United Nations charter offers "a truly effective instrument for lasting peace."

The silver-haired former secretary of state testified as the first witness at the 50-nation agreement reached at San Francisco started officially through the senate amid indications it may be ratified without amendment or reservation.

The historic session got underway four minutes late. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) opened the proceedings by inserting in the record the speech of President Truman to the senate the day the treaty was delivered, together with a copy of the treaty itself.

The caucus room was jammed with visitors, including some standees in the rear. They let out a cheer first when Stettinius arrived and then when Connally, in white linen suit and black bow tie, strode in. Stettinius wore a gray suit and a maroon tie.

Nineteen of the 23 committee members were present and several other senators sat on the sidelines as the hearing opened.

Connally formally announced that 50 United Nations had approved the charter in San Francisco. By a slip of the tongue he called it "ratified" and quickly caught himself.

Speaking from a prepared manuscript in a large caucus room where the late Wendell L. Willkie once expounded his one-world views, Stettinius declared:

"I believe the five major nations proved at San Francisco beyond the shadow of any doubt that they can work successfully and in unity with each other and with the other United Nations under this charter."

No country has a greater stake, he continued, than the United States "in a speedy beginning upon the task of realizing in fact the promise which the United Nations charter offers to the world."

The former secretary, designated by President Truman as the American representative on the proposed world security council, defended the voting procedure under which the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France and China—plus two small nation members—must approve before the council can take positive action to settle international disputes.

"These nations possess most of the military and industrial resources of the world," he asserted. (Turn to Page Seven)

Three Shangra-La Survivors Arrive

Hamilton Field, Calif., July 9.—(P)—A pretty WAC corporal and two other survivors from "Shangra-la" arrived in an army transport plane from New Guinea today enroute to Washington to report to the army on the plane crash last May 13 which cost the lives of 21 others.

The three, still wearing bandages over burns suffered in the crash into a New Guinea valley surrounded by 14,000 foot peaks, are Cpl. Margaret Hastings, 30, Owego, N. Y.; Lt. John S. McCollom, 26, Trenton, Mo., and Sgt. Kenneth Decker, 34, Kelso, Wash.

The pert little corporal—she weighs 100 pounds and stands five feet one and a half inches tall—contradicted two reports which had preceded her.

She was not offered a throne by the natives of the hidden valley in New Guinea. She formed no romantic attachments for any of the men she was marooned with and has none at all.

Stettinius is rated fifth in the list of major Nazi extermination camps. Thousands of men and women were executed there, or allowed to starve to death.

One of the Germans held, an interpreter who was present during the interrogation of the group in Mauthausen, said that some were beaten and tortured in an effort to wring information from them, but Morton "underwent the interrogation without difficulty or hardships."

Will Start Paying Wage Grant

Johnstown, July 9—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Electric Co. said today it would proceed immediately with payment of nearly $250,000 in retroactive pay raises granted under a Regional War Labor Board award last Tuesday.

At the same time, the company and the AFL-Brotherhood of Electrical Workers planned an appeal to the national board from the average six-cents-per-hour decision of the RWLB. The company and union had asked an average eight and one-half cents an hour boost.

W. Eugene Sayers, international representative for the union, said the RWLB granted permission for the joint appeal Saturday. Under the company-union wage request, Sayers said, the key rate throughout the company would be equalized at $1.18½ cents per hour instead of $1.15 as decided by the RWLB directive.

Sayers said the union would continue to hold off on a strike voted by nearly 1,000 employees, pending action on the appeal. The RWLB action averted a strike set for 11:59 p. m. July 5.

The threatened walkout would have shut off power from 165,000 homes and 24,000 commercial plants in 17 western Pennsylvania and Maryland counties.

Mrs. Louis Hoppe, of Salamanca, N. Y., formerly of this city is in the Buffalo General Hospital where she recently underwent a major operation. Friends in Warren will be pleased to hear that she is doing as well as can be expected.

SETTING A CURB
Employees of the street department are engaged in setting a curb along the driveway leading into the police station from Third avenue. This driveway has never been curbed and water during the winter months became a nuisance to the First Evangelical church and the borough. The improvement will be a noticeable one for those who use the drive. Work of resurfacing the parking lot at the rear of the city building will be undertaken soon. This will be quite an extensive job as portions of the lot will have to be raised and the grading so arranged that proper drainage will be established.

Wrecks Tie Up Traffic On Pennsy R. R. Over Weekend

Sunday the train from the east, due in Warren about 7 o'clock did not arrive until 12:45 due to a wreck at Keating, east of Emporium, which effectively plugged traffic on the line for several hours. This was the fourth wreck on the Pennsy in four days.

On Saturday morning 14 cars were derailed about two miles east of St. Marys. The cars were those of an ore train which tore up considerable trackage and about 24 hours were required to get the tracks in shape once more for the resumption of through traffic.

Train 97, east bound, was sent out of Warren on time Saturday but had to be detoured via Olean and buses were used to carry passengers between Warren and Emporium. Train 581 west bound Saturday was also detoured by way of Olean.

It is reported that no members of the crews were injured in the wrecks on Saturday or Sunday.

Three Herds of Elephants Coming With Clyde Beatty Circus

Here is Flo McIntosh, one of the daring girl elephant trainers who handle the three herds of performing elephants with the Clyde Beatty Circus.

Among the countless wonders coming to Warren giving two performances at 2:00 and 8:00 p. m., at the South Side Circus Grounds will be three herds of huge performing elephants, Thursday, July 12.

The big fellows, said to be the most intelligent of all animals yet domesticated by man, are a never-ending source of interest and amusement to circus fans, say circus men. Elephant men call them "rubber cows," yet the circus elephant performs a multitude of tasks around the circus, both mental and complex.

Whether standing in the menagerie contentedly munching hay and eating peanuts, or pushing heavy circus wagons through deep mud, the circus elephant is always the center of attraction from visitors, who yearly purchase tons of peanuts which are handed to the elephants, one at a time.

The Clyde Beatty Circus elephants are all trained and worked by tomely misses and throughout the performance the girls put their charges through many intricate routines.

Many internationally known stars of the white tops are with this, America's Newest Big Show. Heading this great array is the one and only Clyde Beatty, greatest wild animal trainer of his or any other age; his very blonde, very pretty young wife, Mrs. Harriett Beatty, presenting an act of her own conception and only one of its kind in the world, having mastered two lords of the jungle, the Asiatic elephant and a Royal Bengal tiger, working together in the big steel cage; The Flying Escavitas, daring Argentine marvells on the swinging trapeze; Don Pablo Troupe of Acrobats; Jean Evans, queen of the trapeze; McIntosh Sisters and Pauline Penny, sensational artists on the slack wire; Beatty's Hollywood Chimpanzees; the Craig's and the Henry's rolling globe artists, and more than four score other features constantly filling three rings, the air and hippodrome track, not forgetting highly trained thoroughbred menage and liberty horses, ponies and dogs, and a horde of funny clowns.

Doors open at 2:00 and 7:00, performances starting one hour later in each instance, 3:00 and 8 p. m. Downtown reserve ticket sale, J. C. Penny Co., 213 Liberty Street, 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

A New "House of Magic" for Postwar America

"...one of the strongest guarantees of progress and world peace is continuous scientific preparedness through industrial research."

General Electric has approved plans for a new $8,000,000 Research Laboratory. This expenditure has tremendous significance. Scientific research has contributed much to our progress as a nation.

"Many things have been discovered during this war, and we can and must develop them into better things for peacetime."

"Today we have 550 research people on our staff. These new facilities will not only give increased outlet for their abilities, but will provide opportunities for new research minds with new talents."

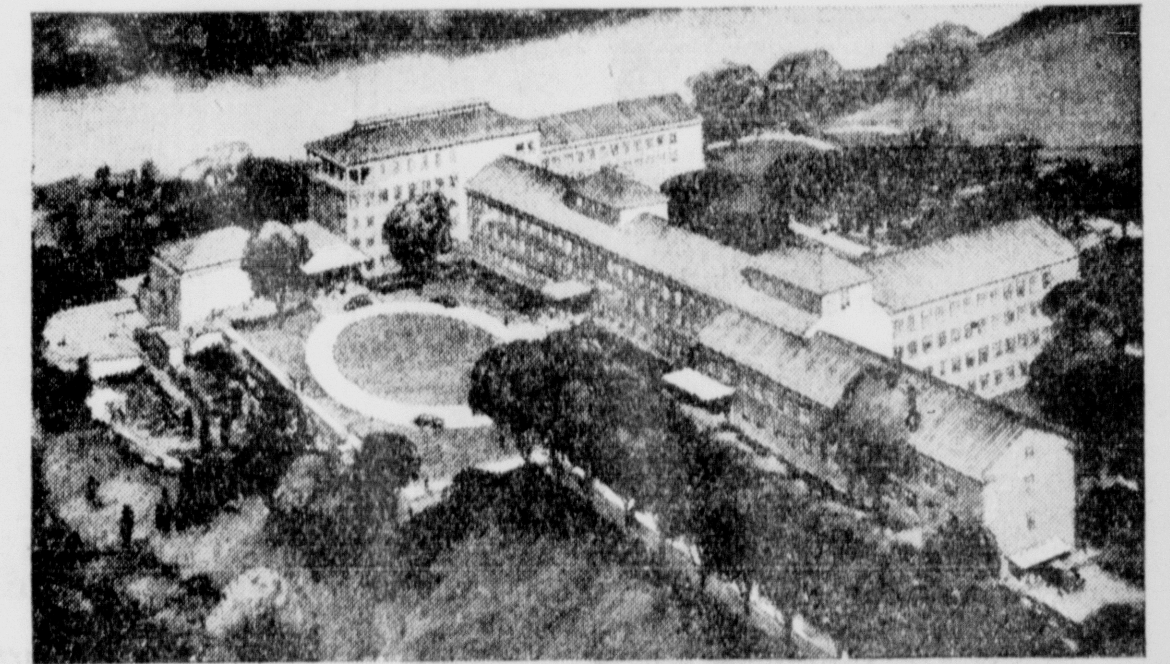

"From this new laboratory we think new achievements will come. In the past, G-E research has contributed much to better living in America—not only through new developments in x-ray, electricity, metallurgy, electronics and chemistry, but also through reduced cost and increased efficiency, as in the modern incandescent lamp.

"Even more than in the past the laboratory will emphasize research in pure science—continuing and expanding the work begun by Dr. Whitney and the late Dr. Steinmetz forty-five years ago."

"To find new facts of the physical world, to extend the limits of knowledge, is a forward step in creating More Goods for More People at Less Cost."

William
President
GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY

New $8-million-dollar G-E Research Laboratory will be built five miles east of Schenectady, New York, on the Mohawk River. The geographic location offers special advantages for television, high voltage x-ray, and radar research. Buildings with 300,000 square feet of floor space will accommodate an expanded post-war research staff of about 800. Research rooms will be a scientist's paradise of equipment for experiments in chemistry, physics, mechanics, electronics. It is hoped that construction can start in six months.

FISHING IN PEACE POOL

One of the most interesting spectacles of the week-end, according to DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press news analyst, has been that of Japan's notorious Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura doing a bit of vigorous fishing in the peace pool.

Nomura is by way of being an expert on peace—that is, on some aspects of it. He's the fellow who was in Washington as the Mikado's special envoy, talking peace and expressing Nippon's deep affection for Uncle Sam when the Japs made their treacherous attack at Pearl Harbor. His name is deeply engraved on American memory.

The admiral—casting a long line in the hope of hooking a bit of information—says that the Allies' policy of unconditional surrender is only costing them higher casualties. He admits there's no sign that they are suffering from war-weariness.

Nomura has been about a bit and isn't silly enough to think that any such statement would affect the Allied war program. Undoubtedly he is trying to draw from the Allies some further, more concrete, declarations as to what "unconditional surrender" entails. Why? Well, because Japan knows that she is beaten and she is looking about to see what can be salvaged from the wreckage.

Things must indeed look black in Tokyo. The homeland is virtually isolated by Allied naval and air blockade. Japan cannot feed herself, and already is faced with a food crisis. We are just hitting our stride in an aerial bombardment which will be more terrible than anything the world has seen.

This past week-end also has marked the eighth anniversary of China's struggle against Japan barbarism—and it finds the Chinese at long last heading out of the woods. Tokyo will have noted that this anniversary was the occasion of Prime Minister Churchill's renewal of the pledge that Britain will concentrate all her efforts in cooperation with the Allies to achieve final victory in the Pacific. France, too, promised her help.

If Japan were smart she would surrender now, thereby saving herself useless punishment—and forestalling Russia's possible entrance into the conflict.

OIL FIRST ESSENTIAL IN WAR

Discussing the necessity of an oil supply in carrying on today's war, Ralph T. Zook, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, calls attention to recent findings of Allied experts investigating the shattered German war machine following V-E day.

The breakdown of war industry on the continent apparently resulted from a breakdown of petroleum facilities, he said.

In war, oil is the first essential; at home it is essential to our own safety, he affirms in a statement appearing in the current issue of the Independent Monthly, official publication of the association.

Oil alone will not win the war, but lack of oil can lose a war—and a nation, Mr. Zook declared. "Time" editor Joseph Puntell, reporting on conditions in Germany, makes the startling statement that "The host of Allied experts is gradually realizing that 80 per cent of German industry, perhaps more, escaped the bombs—if Germany was short of anything, except oil, it has not yet been discovered, Mr. Zook quoted.

"When Japan loses the oil supply of Borneo and the Netherlands East Indies, she will go down with Germany," he said.

NEW INCOME TAX RECORD

Here's an echo from those income tax forms local citizens fumed over last February and March: Stanley Granger, collector of Internal Revenue for the Western District of Pennsylvania comprising twenty-four Western Counties, today stated that the largest tax collection in the history of the local office has been shown by the totals for the fiscal year just ending, June 30, 1945. Tax collection amounted to $1,405,526,809.48. The local district moved into the billion dollar class in 1944 when the tax collection amounted to $1,290,216,764.44. The 1945 collection represents an increase of $115,310,045.04. This collection includes all Federal taxes such as income, employment, withholding and various miscellaneous taxes. The tax collection figures represents total collection for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1945 as collected in the Pittsburgh Office and the fourteen branch offices throughout Western Pennsylvania.

Never before in the history of the area have cottages and touring camps been more in demand than during the present summer. They all seem to be filled and many vacationists are using tents and trailers.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Your Capital in Wartime:

Federal workers who look on hot, muggy Washington summers as just something more to get away from are going to have to build their dreams of July 4 and Labor Day holidays on 1946. The order already has gone out that the "no holiday rule" will continue in force this year at least through these days and probably through Thanksgiving.

Uncle Sam's nephews and nieces will continue to get annual leave, but travel restrictions, more stringently enforced among government personnel than among other civilians, will keep thousands of them in Washington.

ODI estimates that 75 per cent of all Pullman space and nearly half the nation's coach space will be under direction of the military by August. That means a lot of people aren't going anywhere, regardless of how much time they have for a vacation.

SEN. WILLIAM LANGER, the Bismarck, N. D., Republican, has one of the strangest habits of any member of Congress. He sits through sessions of the Senate sucking contentedly on a cigar, never removing the cellophane wrapper.

WHEN Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower was in Washington recently, her military aide was WAC Maj. Patricia Chance, of Houston, Tex. She received a newspaper reporter's story to end them all. Major Chance, then "Pat" McNeely, was a crack reporter for the Houston Post, when the national free balloon races were held there.

She and William S. White, then of the Associated Press, were among those assigned to the story. Their big problem was to get reports from the balloonists as the race progressed. Pooling their resources they worked out printed forms. The balloonists were to fill them out, place them in envelopes and toss them overboard.

Finders were instructed to call in the report and get a reward. To be certain the envelopes weren't blown all over creation, they were weighted with linotype slugs.

The first day not a single report was received; not the second until mid-afternoon, when an irate farmer called in that the weighted envelope had smashed through the top of his chicken house and killed his prize Dominic rooster. He threatened suit.

The paper settled for $50—on the only report received from the weighted missives. Maj. Chance and "Bill" White still are glad they didn't get more.

THAT 37th Division, which is doing so much to mop up the Japs in the bitter fighting in the Cagayan valley in northern Luzon, has a proud name of long standing. It's the famous "Buckeye division." The man who gave them the name is a Washington newspaperman, Morris D. "Tex" Ervin, correspondent for the Cincinnati Times-Star.

In World War I the 37th, formed out of the Ohio National Guard, went into training at Camp Sheridan, near Montgomery, Ala. James M. Cox, then governor of Ohio, went down to review the division and remarked that it should have a name.

Ervin, who was one of the editors of the Sheridan Reveille, suggested "Buckeye."

A COMMONPLACE BOOK

"What does one do at Santa Fe?" I asked the young man who was sitting next to me in the lounge car. (He had sat up all night in a chair, being unable to secure a berth in the crowded Chief.) I was anxious to learn something in advance about the town we were soon to visit, because we did not wish to waste an hour of the short time we were to be there. I had learned that this intelligent and cultured chap operated a gold mine in the mountains north of Santa Fe.

His reply was remarkable and illuminating. "You don't do anything if you are smart," he said, "except just to sit and soak up sensation." I thought I understood what he meant but a few hours later, when we were actually in the narrow streets of that ancient city, I knew I did.

For the next couple of days I kept remembering this wise young man and remembering also the neo-pagan philosophy of Walter Pater. "Every moment some form grows perfect in hand or face; some tone on the hills or the sea is choicer than the rest. These words, and again: 'Not the fruit of experience but experience itself is the end,' kept coming back to me. I don't know whether Walter Pater ever saw a mountain with its crest enameled in snowy porcelain, or a desert whose whiteness is violently relieved by the dark green of pinon trees and the waving silver brush of the sage. But if ever a country was made to illuminate his idea of the enjoyment of life, certainly it was this stirring, sensation-filled New Mexico.

You cannot go to Santa Fe by train, for no train runs through that one-time center of all the southwest, the terminus of the old Santa Fe trail, the headquarters of the old Spanish priests who ministered and ruled here, the seat of the governors from the earliest days. You must leave the haughty and impatient train at Lamy, a tiny group of houses in the middle of nothing. (Lamy, by the way, was named after the famous French Priest, Archbishop Lamy, who brought order into the disorganized church of New Mexico and built the magnificent Cathedral of St. Francis at the east end of San Francisco Street in the 1870's. He is the hero of Willa Cather's book, "Death Comes for the Archbishop.") You must take a bus which will carry you through the mountains and deposit you at Santa Fe, eighteen miles away.

More than anything else at first, I think, you are conscious of the purity of the air. It flows into your lungs like something palpable. You can almost taste it. We are seven thousand feet high now. There are no factories, no industries, no smoke, and no dirt. The sky is the deepest blue imaginable. As you drive through the country the whiteness of the sand, the blueness of the sky, the deep green of the pinon and cedar, the soft blues and white crests of the mountains, remind you of the artist in the "Moon and Sixpence" who wanted suddenly to go to the tropics where the colors were "raw and violent and full of contrast." This is the place, certainly, though it isn't the tropics and one would call the colors violent, perhaps, but not raw. That is why so many painters come here to live, for Santa Fe is one of America's leading art centers. Writers, too, come here and to Taos, seventy miles to the north, along with sufferers from tuberculosis and asthma. D. H. Lawrence, famous English novelist, a victim of tuberculosis, lived at Taos for eight years before his death. Mable Dodge (now Mable Lujan, since she married a Taos Indian), author of "Edge of Taos Desert," still lives in Taos.

At Santa Fe most of the architecture, even the few modern buildings, is based on the adobe construction of the Indians. It is almost all one-story, and when there are two or three, they are stepped back in the manner of the pueblo. The Palace of the Governors is still there and very much in use by a series of small art shops; a long adobe structure, one-story, extending the length of one full block with a beautiful patio hidden in the center. It was built in 1610 by Don Pedro de Peralta, Spanish provincial governor, so you see it has been doing business picturesquely since ten years before the Pilgrims ventured a tentative toe upon Plymouth Rock. The plaza still remains the hub of village activities. It is a small green park in the center of the town, where a Mexican woman with two or three children is resting on a bench, or a copper Indian with coal-black braids and the inevitable blanket is offering some small wares of silver. It was the first place that attracted us after our ride through the mountains.

The Cathedral of St. Francis, with its statue of Archbishop Lamy in front, is beautiful and inspiring, but the little Mission of San Miguel, said to be the oldest church in the United States, is historically more interesting, with its thick adobe walls, its beautiful, deep-toned bell, and its carved Spanish beams. Across the lane at the side of the Chapel is a house labeled "the oldest house in the United States." Apparently authorities disagree, since I believe there is a house in St. Augustine, Florida, also claimed to be the "oldest house in the U. S. A." However, this one is obviously very ancient and much more primitive than the grand mansion in St. Augustine. It is built of puddled adobe and is even believed to be pre-Spanish, perhaps as much as 400 years old.

Santa Fe is near most of the important Indian pueblos of New Mexico, those ancient villages where Indian life has gone on largely undisturbed and where the Indian stock exists in unexampled purity. To the north are the pueblos of Tesuque, Santa Clara, San Ildefonso, San Juan, and Taos. To the south lie the pueblos of Cochiti and Santo Domingo. In the city itself I had expected, of course, to see a great many people of Mexican blood, but I was amazed by the proportion. While I have seen no figures, it seemed that at least 50% of Santa Fe population must be of Mexican origin.

"There's a lot more, Joe. I'll tell you all about it on the train. Then we won't tie up telephone facilities."

Good commuting, Bill! It's thoughtfulness of this sort, even on local telephone calls, that leads to better telephone service for you and everybody else.

War-time demands upon overburdened telephone facilities are so heavy that telephone-minutes must be saved on local as well as long distance calls. Be fair and share.

Try to keep all telephone calls reasonably brief.

War Projects Fund

Announcement by General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, that proceeds from its last Friday card party will be given to the War Projects Fund has brought inquiries from non-members concerning this National Society contribution to the war.
The National Society really has three war projects for 1945, all aimed at aiding thousands of wounded and sick Army, Navy and Coast Guard men in regaining their health. One of the projects, heartily endorsed by the surgeon general, Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, will bring solace and cheer to thousands of GIs in the great Mayo General Army Hospital in Galesburg, The project is a wired program distribution system costing $60,000, one of the latest miracles in radio. When installed, every service man in this 2,000 to 2,500 bed hospital will have headphones beside his cot. A gadget with a row of five buttons will give him choice of five programs, including the main speaker system of the hospital. There will also be loud speakers for general entertainment and educational purposes covering the entire hospital. General Kirk advised the DAR this system is a needed therapy not supplied by the government to its army hospitals.
The other two projects concern the U. S. Navy. One of them will provide mobile X-ray units for six new hospital ships, two of which were already delivered in March. The units are so constructed that they may also be taken ashore for use in isolated places. Each unit will cost $15,000.
The third project will provide another type of portable X-ray unit for use in navy hospital ships, one that may be moved any place in the wards or private rooms so that patients will not have to suffer removal to the X-ray department. They will be installed on the seven navy hospital ships already in service and on six others being built.
Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, president general, says these three projects are really needed. "We raised over $350,000 for our blood plasma mobile units," she adds, "and we will continue to contribute to all projects for the wounded and sick, who need the best of care in their convalescence."
Warren's DAR chapter has contributed $1 per capita for its membership of 81 women in each of the three years this War Projects Fund has been functioning.

Calabrese Easy Victims Of NFOs in 7th Win; Morrison Hits Perfect Five For Five

The 1945 National Forge baseball team captured its seventh victory of the year yesterday at Wilder Field via an 8-5 win over the former Erie Bradenders, the Calabrese Club. Pitcher Dick Hines annexed his fourth win of the year against four losses, allowing the visitors eleven hits and no free passes while his teammates smashed out 11 singles and two doubles and collected four walks.

Locals Drub Pleasantville Nine, 10 to 3

A combination of National Forge and Warren Independents tangled with the Pleasantville Ordinance outfit at the State Hospital diamond Saturday afternoon and blasted out an easy 10-3 victory behind the eight-hit pitching of Craig Bennett.

With a revised infield and outfield both, the Hospital nine had little trouble in trouncing the league-leaders in the Oil City-Titusville-Pleasantville league. Ray Reed and Joe Massa, both of the Warren Independents, filled in at third and first, respectively. Solok went to second and "Stiggle" Petrowski to short.

The locals opened their scoring in the first inning with a four-run barrage after two men had died out. Solok, the third batter walked and was followed at the plate by four successive singles as the boys all but put the game on ice in the opening frame.

Not until the third inning did the Ordinance tally. Pete Beason went home with the losers' first score after he had singled and was driven home by Scott's one-base knock. "Peckley" McKinney came up in the third with a long triple into center field but was stranded on base.

In the fourth, a pair of walks plus a pair of singles allowed the locals to move scores. In the fifth Fehman crossed the plate with the seventh run after he singled and went home on Petrowski's bingoe. Joe Massa hit his first home run of the year in the sixth with Solok on to give the locals a 9-1 margin. Massa lined the ball deep into right field to clear the sacks. The seventh inning climaxed the local scoring as the Hospital representatives sent home their tenth. In the eighth, Pleasantville managed to make their total three on a walk and two singles.

the outstanding man at the plate yesterday, snatching out five singles in five times at the plate to raise his season average to .415.

The Forgers got off to a good start in the first inning when Dick Geigerich scored on Morrison's first single after taking a free trip to first. In the first three innings, only nine men faced Hines, seven of the total grounding out.

Not until the third did either nine do any scoring, the Forge sending home four more scores. Petrowski and Morrison each singled and Rosequist walked. An error by shortstop Bob Morgan, ex-Erie Academy football star, allowed the first two men to score and Mike Solok to go to second. A single by John Pawk sent two more runs across as the Forgers increased their margin to 5-0.

In the fourth and sixth innings, Erie sent single runs home, banging out three singles in the fourth and two in the sixth. The locals came back in their half of the sixth frame, however, to score 3 more times on two doubles and two singles.

The Calabrese made it 8-3 in the first of the eighth. Soda went to first on a fielder's choice and all the way from first base to home plate on DeFazio's single.

In the ninth, Erie loaded the sacks when Lipchik was hit by a pitched ball and DiTullo singled, allowing two more runs to go home, but got caught in a fielder's choice for the third out.

On Thursday night, the Forgers met the Corry Merchants at the State Hospital and then travel to Pleasantville for a return game with the Northern Ordinance on Saturday.

My name is Dorothy Baker. I'm the "Yes Man" at Personal Finance Co. that is—I'm the one who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal Loans.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the one who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "yes" to you.

St. Joseph's Tops Sylvania Crew, 20 to 4

The league-leading St. Joseph's basketball team romped to a 20-4 victory over Sylvania Friday night to extend their margin into the second round.

Fletcher Chuck Denardi limited the Sylvania team to nine bingoes while his mates chalked up 24 hits, eight of them for extra bases. O'Leary started on the mound for the locals but was relieved by Dick Schumacher late in the game.

Errors accounted for a number of St. Joe's runs, the losers committing seven blunders.

Failure To Hit in Clutches Costs Locals Decision; All-Star Rally Comes After 2 Out

The Warren Independents met up with a much superior and much more experienced ball club yesterday at Russell Field, losing a 5-0 decision to the Jamestown All-Stars. A four-run rally in the fourth inning after two men were out sank the locals' hopes of keeping the game close. Inability to hit in the clutches also aided in the Indies' loss, stranding nine runners on the sacks.

In the first two innings the going was tough, although the locals put two men on base with one out but failed to come through with the needed hits. The All-Stars scored their first run in the third when Walker doubled then scored on pitcher Bob Mee's single.

The Indies collected two singles after one out in the last of the third frame, but again they met with difficulty in hitting in the clutches.

Jamestown's big rally came in the early part of the fourth. First two men went out. An error by Don Gherce, four straight singles, and another error allowed four more scores before Squinn popped out to Martin, increasing the All-Star margin to 5-0.

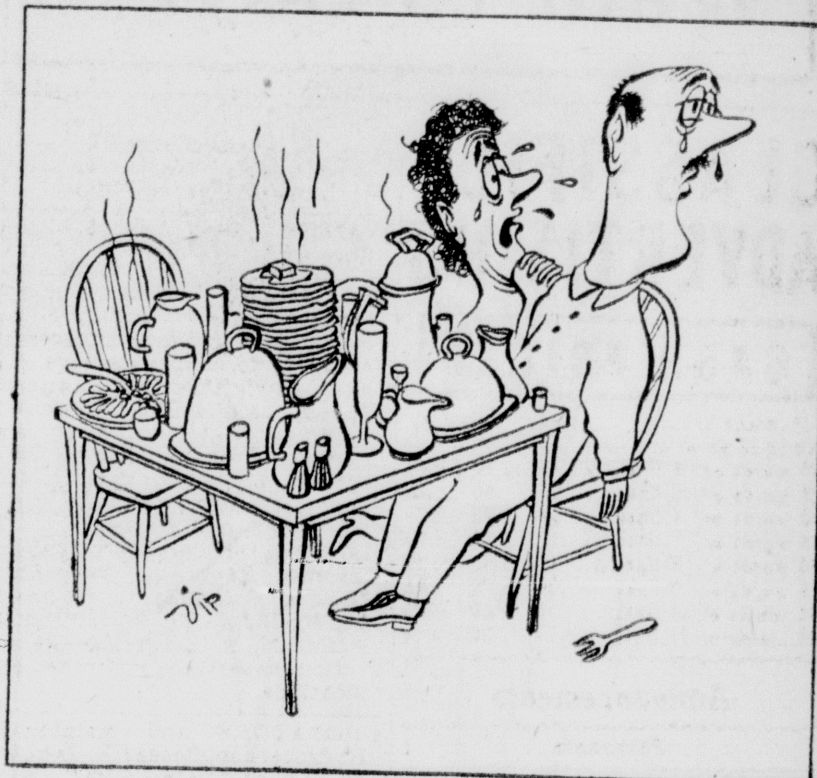

Mee sent twelve locals down via the strikeout route, limiting the Indies to seven bingoes while the opponents collected ten. Jim Rose, making his first start of the year, held good control with the exception of the fourth.

Yesterday's loss was the first for the Independents, having already two wins under their belts. Manager Sam Cosmano says that the youngsters have to come along (Turn to Page Seven)

FORGERS ACCEPT INDIES' CHALLENGE

It was announced this morning by the management of the National Forge baseball team that the Forge has accepted the challenge of the Warren Independents for a two-game series this week. The first game will be played Wednesday night at Russell Field at 6:15 and the second game at Wilder Field next Sunday afternoon.

This is the first time in a number of years that the Forge team has accepted the challenge of a local independent team.

Men and Women In the Service

Tidioute Major Is Transferred To Baltimore

Word is received from Richmond, Va., that Major John T. McCloskey has been relieved of command of the regional clothing and textile shop and goes on duty with Col. William K. Wilemon, director of supply for the Third Service Command.

A native of Tidioute, Major McCloskey is no stranger to Baltimore, having been on duty in that city for a number of years as senior instructor for the Holabird Depot when that installation was administered by the Quartermaster Corps. Later he was executive officer and chief of supply division at the Army's tank automotive center in Detroit. He also served as officer-in-charge of the warehouse equipment parts division in the ASF Depot, Columbus, Ohio.

Serving with Major McCloskey at Columbus was Captain E. F. Hoban, who now succeeds him here. Captain Hoban, who has until recently been storage officer on the staff of Col. Wilemon, and born in Grafton, West Va.

Output of the Richmond installation has more than doubled since Major McCloskey assumed command last fall. This increase in production was brought about by scientific industrial management methods, including the latest wrinkle: in the use of labor saving devices and a consolidation of storage space.

Service Men Dispatch Many Messages

Over 10,500,000 Expeditionary Force messages have been handled by Western Union since June 1942 between servicemen overseas and their friends and relatives at home, it was announced last night by C. S. Burnette, local telegraph manager. Of these only 2,900,000 EFM's were from the folks at home. Service people sent 2.5 to each one they received.

More than 400,000 EFM's were sent to members of the armed forces overseas in the first seven months the service was in effect in 1942, nearly 900,000 in 1943, and over a million in 1944. Around 100,000 a month are sent now. Messages from the servicemen to home jumped from 600,000 in 1942, to 3,200,000 in 1944, and are running about 300,000 a month now.

ended with a silver treasure. The Elves found the treasure. It was candy enough for everyone in silver boxes and the lucky girls shared with the whole troop.

The Gnomes had prepared a play, written by Tommy, that told us just why we were celebrating the Fourth of July and they gave it in the Playhouse. It seems that once the United States was part of England but it grew up until it was big enough to be a country by itself. On July Fourth, 1776, the thirteen colonies told England that they wanted to be free. That is why we celebrate the day.

In just two days, we shall have to say goodbye to all the Brownie Scouts. More than 60 Girl Scouts will come in on Sunday. The tents are going up, cooking kits are coming out. I am getting ready to take to the woods with the girls.

There is nothing definite about August 4th yet, but Abbie is planning for a water carnival on that day so it is something special. It falls on Saturday. That is all I have heard today.

The EFM service provides 237 phrases from which a combination of any three is sent to or by a serviceman at a cost of only 60 cents. The phrases range from such terse expressions of affection as "Kisses" or "Love" to the more loquacious text No. 61, "You are more than ever in my thoughts at this time."

Frequently selected EFM phrases sent by servicemen and also by their families are "Are you all right?" "Worried about you" and "Please don't worry." Other well-worn phrases are both reassuring and affectionate: "Writing," "All well at home," the popular "Darling," "All my love," and ever-welcome "Letters sent" or "Telegram received. Many thanks," or just plain "Well." Still others convey the news, "Son born," or "Daughter born."

Youngsville Soldier Is Now Driving Truck

Youngsville, July 6—Word has been received from Pfc. Herman C. Ruhlman of his activities since leaving here in December. He spent Christmas Day on the General J. R. Brooks in New York harbor and sailed the following morning, landing in Le Havre, France. He went by rail to the front, through Paris and Rheims. He was on the front in Luxembourg and on the Siegfried Line in Belgium and above St. Vit's, where he got trench feet and was sent back through hospitals, finally landing in England where he was a patient in the 163rd General Hospital near Cambridge. When leaving this hospital, he was given a seven day delay en route to Birmingham and visited London, England and Glasgow, Scotland. He went from Birmingham to Le Havre and through several replacement depots to Etretat, France.

He is now driving a truck, carrying supplies and troops to Le Havre. He has been to Camp Lucky Strikes near Fecamp with his truck. A few weeks ago, while at the motor pool, Andrew Sivi looked him up. They had a very nice visit. It was the first time Pfc. Ruhlman had met anyone he knew from his home town in his foreign service.

He says he likes driving a truck after serving in the infantry. He served in Patton's Third Army. He will be glad to hear from any of his friends.

AT REST AREA

From Chamonix, France comes word that Pfc. Glenn A. Roberts, or North Warren, serving with the 564 Signal Air Warning Battalion, is relaxing for a week at the Alpine valley rest area of the 9th Air Defense Command. After attending school, Roberts worked for Bell Aircraft Corporation before entering service. He has been overseas for 17 months and performs the duties of an information center operator. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Roberts.

MAIL GOES THROUGH

From an 8th Air Force fighter station in England it is learned that Pvt. Delbert M. Thomas, nephew of Mrs. Guy Thomas, Warren RD 3, has stacked up 20,000 miles calling for and delivering mail for the veteran 357th Fighter Group. Arriving in the European theater of operations with the 439th Air Service Group in November, 1943, Pvt. Thomas was later attached to the high-speed Mustang unit for duty. He and other ground personnel like him have since contributed greatly to the 357th record of more than 690 Nazi aircraft destroyed, 585 of them shot down in air. Pvt. Thomas enlisted in the armed forces in October, 1942.

Pvt. Everett Carlson, husband of Nell R. Carlson, 108 Pennsylvania avenue, west, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Carlson, 20 Parker street, has been sent to Sheppard Field, Texas, where he will receive his basic training. Pvt. Carlson was with the local group which left June 21st for induction.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Weidert, 305 Beech street have received word from their son, Pvt. William, that he has arrived safely in Manila.

MEET IN GERMANY

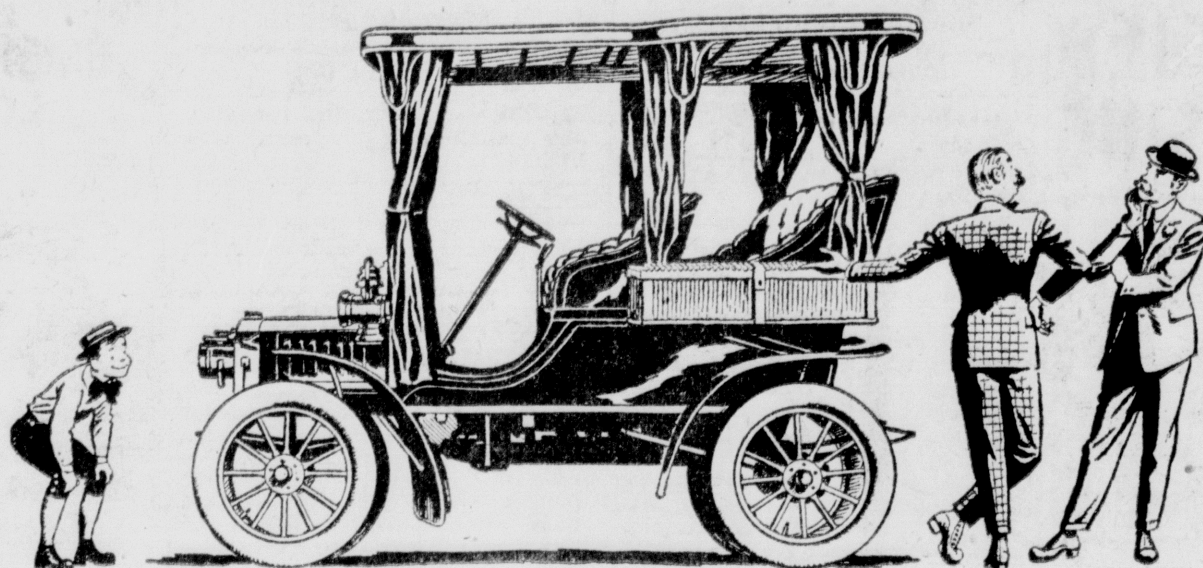

Pfc. Clifton O. Larson writes that he recently had the pleasure of meeting S/Sgt. Glenn Patchen and talked with him for a few minutes. Sgt. Patchen had stopped to ask directions in the square in Heidelberg, Germany, and neither recognized the other until the direction had been given. Larson has been stationed in that city for the past month and Patchen is located in Ulm, Germany. Larson has just been transferred to the 682nd Signal Detachment and Patchen is the first person he has met from home since going overseas.

SIX BATTLE STARS

Word has been received from Frank Russo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Russo, 12 Morrison street, serving with the Seventh Army in Germany, that he now has six battle stars for his campaign ribbons for action in Africa, Italy, France and Germany; also the Good Conduct Medal. To date, he writes, he has 105 discharge points to his credit.

When cars came

"complete with baskets"

Atlantic was already a leading "gas"

Remember the 1904 Rambler, "complete with canopy top and side curtains, lamps and baskets"? Seems like a long time back, but Atlantic petroleum products represented 34 years of experience even then.

Many in 1904, still looked on the automobile as a toy. But the Atlantic refinery was ready for this new market. As early as that, Atlantic was playing a part in motor progress. It has been doing so ever since.

25 Years' Petroleum Progress Since Pearl Harbor tells Atlantic's wartime story. While the automobile and aviation industries have been turning out super-planes, Atlantic has been supplying super-gasoline to power them. The research that helped to develop this super-fuel... the vast new refining facilities producing it... these assure better, more economical, more powerful gasoline for your post-war driving.

Atlantic has always made good gasoline and motor oil.

Atlantic is continuing its research to make them even better. The finest petroleum products Atlantic has ever made will soon be yours.

ATLANTIC

has always made good gasoline
